that can match our prices. We are well aware that every merchant makes the same claim-but we have these good reasons to substantiate ours:

FIRST-We are manufacturers-you buy from us almost as cheap as a merchant buys from a jobber.

SECOND-We have three big stores-one in Baltimore-one in Atlanta-and this one. We need immense quantities to supply them-and consequently gain big concessions from the cloth mills on account of the vast quantities we use.

THIRD-There isn't a firm hereabouts with as much ready capital as we have. We pay spot cash for every dollar's worth we buy-and as cash buyers, can practically make our own terms.

So you see it's no idle boast with us -- we've got the facilities-and it isn't any wonder that our prices are a

We still say it: We defy competition. When you investigate the splendid quality of our goods (for we keep nothing but the highest grade), and then compare such prices as these with others, you will acknowledge with the rest that our prices are unapproachable. These special prices last until Wednesday night. If you prefer to have the goods charged we will willingly do so. These cuts are exact reproductions of the goods.

A Word About Trading Stamps

You are probably collecting them; or if not, some member of your family or some friend of yours is. They cost you nothing, and you can see for yourself what sort of presents you get for the requisite number of stamps. Surely they are worth the trouble of asking for. If you are not collecting yourself give them to some one who is. It's like getting 10 per cent off your purchases.

We give Trading Stamps with each cash purchase.

Our prices are the lowest in the land and we add to the wonder of our bargains by giving stamps to all who ask for them. Be sure to get yours at the time of purchase, as we keep no record of whom we give them to and cannot give any out afterward. For every 10c worth purchased you are entitled to one. Start collecting right now if you have not already done so; it's a good way of getting some handsome presents without paying a cent for them. We have made thorough investigations into the company's methods and can safely recommend them.
